

Privacy Policy

Livlife is an App committed to the protection, confidentiality, and care of its users' privacy, understanding that this is a fundamental point for you to use Livlife with confidence. That is why in application of the Law on the Protection of Private Life ("Law No. 19.628"), as well as other regulations that may be applicable, we want to inform you about certain aspects related to the processing of your personal data in Livlife. This policy details how Livlife collects, processes, and protects the personal data that its users provide within its App, on its website <https://livelify.app/>, or other means implemented in the future, such as forms, surveys, among others, so that users are free to decide if they want their personal data to be processed by Livlife. Therefore, when the user enters and/or interacts with the App, website, or other means provided by Livlife, or contracts or is interested in contracting Livlife products and/or services, the processing of their personal data will be carried out in accordance with the provisions of this policy. As far as possible and reasonable, Livlife carries out checks regarding the legality and/or accuracy of the information provided by users. Therefore, Livlife is not responsible for any infringement and/or damage derived from the illegality, illegitimacy, alteration, misuse, fraud, or sanction in relation to the information that the user has provided. It is your responsibility to update the information whenever required. It is important to note that this policy does not apply to user data collected by third parties through other applications or websites, even if these are linked to the Livlife website. In such cases, the privacy policy of said applications, sites, and/or social networks shall apply.

a) "Personal data": Any information linked or referring to a natural person, which identifies them or makes them identifiable through means that can be reasonably used. b) "Sensitive personal data": Data referring to the physical or moral characteristics of individuals or to facts or circumstances of their private life or intimacy, such as personal habits, racial origin, ideologies, beliefs, political opinions or religious convictions, physical or mental health conditions, and sexual life. c) "Data processing": Any operation or set of operations or technical procedures, whether automated or not, that allow the collection, storage, recording, organization, elaboration, selection, extraction, comparison, interconnection, dissociation, communication, assignment, transfer, transmission, or cancellation of personal data, or their use in any other way. d) "Data controller": The natural or legal person, private or public, who decides on the data processing, i.e., who makes decisions about what to do with the data from collection to deletion. For the purposes of this privacy policy, Livlife acts as the data controller. e) "Agent or Data processor": A natural or legal person who processes personal data on behalf of the Controller, as a consequence of a legal relationship that links them to the Controller. f) "User": The natural person who navigates through the website and uses the Livlife App to learn about and/or benefit from its Services, and who expressly authorizes the processing of their personal data by Livlife. g) "Livlife Services": All those provisions that Livlife offers through its website and App, including those it will offer in the future, and, without the following list being exhaustive, but merely illustrative: wellness services, such as; virtual fitness, meditation, mindfulness, among others. h) "Data subject": A natural person whose personal data is subject to processing and for which Livelife is responsible. i) "Data transfer": Occurs when the controller and/or processor of personal data, located in Chile, sends the information or personal data to a recipient, who in turn is a controller and is located inside or outside the country. j) "Data transmission": Processing of personal data that involves the communication of such data within or outside the country's territory when its object is the performance of processing by the processor on behalf of the controller. k) "ARCO Rights": Rights of access, rectification, cancellation, and opposition.

Who is the Controller of the personal data?

The controller of your personal data is the company "Flow Partners SpA.", Unique Tax ID number 78.196.380-1, with registered office in Las Condes, Metropolitan Region of Santiago de Chile.

What personal and/or sensitive data will we use? (Personal data subject to processing).

In order to fulfill the purposes indicated in this privacy policy, Livelife will process the following categories of personal data: User identification and contact personal data, including first and last name, telephone, email; and other data about your device, location, interaction information with the Livelife website, App, and cookies.

What is the legal basis for the use of the data?

Unless another basis is authorized by legal provision, the processing of personal data carried out by Livelife is based on the express, prior, unequivocal, free, and informed consent of the User and/or in the law.

For what purpose do we process the data?

Livelife will process the data strictly necessary for the fulfillment of the following purposes: To comply with legal obligations. To carry out the necessary steps to register, confirm, and update the User's information and for the purpose of safeguarding the security of their information, analyzing data from their profile and of any other nature, such as geographical locations, contact data, and others permitted by current legislation. To promote and offer the benefits associated with loyalty programs and to inform about events and sweepstakes, discounts, promotions, satisfaction surveys, and to improve the experience of Livelife Users. To provide support to the User and answer their questions regarding the Services. To send own and/or third-party advertising. To perform profiling of consumption habits and those related to the User's general well-being. In order to maintain the quality of products and services and to verify instructions and prevent fraud, Livelife may develop behavioral and prediction models, as well as use them for statistical, historical, market research purposes, among others, in which cases your data will be used, as far as possible, in anonymized form, that is, making it impossible to identify the identity of the person to whom they belong. In order to maintain the quality of services, verify instructions, and prevent fraud, Livelife may record telephone conversations, store logs, and keep said conversations and logs, which may also be used as evidence in judicial, administrative, and arbitration proceedings. For statistical, historical, market research purposes, among others, in which cases, as far as possible, the data will be used in anonymized form, that is, making it impossible to identify the identity of the person to whom they refer. For such purposes, Livelife may collect data through different means such as contracting and using Livelife Services through its website, App, online forms, emails, text messages (SMS), phone calls, attention given by customer service (support), and databases freely accessible to the public.

With whom do we share the data and for what purposes? (Personal data transfers).

Livelife will not share personal data with third parties, unless permitted by law, when required to prevent, investigate, and/or detect fraud; and in those cases where the User consents to it. In this sense, by accepting this privacy policy, the User authorizes Livelife to communicate and share personal data with competent authorities, companies of the economic group of the "Flow Partners SpA." company, and third parties such as companies, business partners, payment processors, customer service providers and call centers, instant communication tools, and other types of service or product providers necessary or complementary to the provision of Livelife Services. In the above cases, Livelife will only communicate personal data respecting the purposes described in point v above, and respecting the legal standards of confidentiality, protection, and responsibility.

DISCLOSURE BY THE USER: Any information or content disclosed by the User in the service will become available in the manner in which the User's privacy preferences are configured. To modify said preferences, the User must modify them themselves, in the security preferences section created for their account. Once the content has been disclosed, it may be shared by others. Likewise, the User consents that the data uploaded to the website, or to Livelife's mobile applications through interaction with them (such as their image, information on habits, etc.), may be used by Livelife and its suppliers for surveys, rankings, and statistical purposes.

International Transmission and Transfer.

By accepting this privacy policy, the User expressly authorizes Livelife to transfer their personal data inside and outside the country to be processed by companies of the "Flow Partners SpA." business group or by the third parties indicated in the previous point, for the purposes described in this privacy policy, in accordance with current legal obligations.

How long do we keep your personal data? (Duration of data processing.)

Personal data will be kept as long as you do not revoke your consent to the processing. This retention period may be extended if Livelife must retain your personal data in connection with litigation, investigations, and proceedings, or if applicable law requires a longer retention period.

How can you access, rectify, or cancel your personal data, or oppose its use? (ARCO Rights).

Data protection regulations grant you a series of rights related to your personal data that you may exercise during its processing. These rights are those indicated below: Right of access:

The User and data subject may request Livelife to know the type of data being processed and the characteristics of the processing being carried out on them. Right of rectification: The User and data subject may request Livelife to modify or amend their personal data, when it is inaccurate, outdated, incomplete, or misleading. Right of cancellation: The User and data subject may request Livelife to delete or eliminate their data in the event that its storage lacks legal basis or when it is outdated. Right of opposition: The User and data subject has the right to request Livelife to cease processing their data, only when the data is used for commercial communication purposes and the subject does not wish to remain in the respective registry. This right is usually exercised, for example, for Livelife to stop sending commercial advertising to those who request it. To exercise these rights, you must contact Livelife by sending an email to the address soporte@flowpartners.cl Security.

For Livelife, the security of Users' information is fundamental in the services it provides, which is why it has appropriate policies and technical and organizational measures to adequately safeguard and protect your personal data against illegal or unauthorized access, loss, accidental destruction, damage, illegal or unauthorized use and disclosure. We have sufficient security measures for the protection, confidentiality, and security of Users' Personal Data in order to restrict access to it by unauthorized persons. Likewise, our employees, representatives, subcontractors, consultants, and/or third parties involved in any phase of the processing of your Personal Data will maintain confidentiality regarding them, an obligation that will subsist during the period mentioned in the previous point, in accordance with applicable law.

Contact.

For any questions regarding the terms of this privacy policy or the exercise of the rights conferred by law on the data subject, users may write to soporte@flowpartners.cl addressing their query to the Privacy department.

Changes to this policy.

This privacy policy may undergo modifications, changes, or updates derived from new legal requirements, from our own needs to make the Livelife Services available to you; from our privacy practices or for other reasons. Any change to this privacy policy or to the purposes of processing the data we have provided to Users will be communicated to them through publication on the websites, applications, and other defined channels.

Validity.

This Policy enters into force from the date of its publication. If modified, you will be informed in a timely manner, requesting the respective express consent to the new conditions.
