

Privacy Policy

Livlife is an App committed to the protection, confidentiality, and care of its users' privacy, understanding that this is a fundamental point for you to use Livlife with confidence. Therefore, in application of the Law on Protection of Private Life ("Law No. 19,628"), as well as other applicable regulations, we want to inform you about certain aspects related to the processing of your personal data in Livlife.

This policy details how Livlife collects, processes, and protects the personal data that its users provide within its App, on its website <https://flowpartners.cl/> or other means that may be implemented in the future, such as forms, surveys, among others, so that users have the freedom to decide whether they want their personal data to be processed by Livlife. Therefore, when the user enters and/or interacts in the App, website, or other means provided by Livlife, or contracts or is interested in contracting Livlife products and/or services, the processing of their personal data will be carried out in accordance with the provisions of this policy.

Where possible and reasonable, Livlife performs controls regarding the lawfulness and/or truthfulness of the information that users provide. Therefore, Livlife is not responsible for any infringement and/or damage derived from the unlawfulness, illegitimacy, alteration, misuse, fraud, or penalty in relation to the information that the user has provided. It is your responsibility to update the information whenever required.

It is important to note that this policy does not apply to user data that is collected by third parties through other applications, websites, even if they are linked to the Livlife website. In such a case, the provisions of the privacy policy of those applications, sites and/or social networks shall apply.

- Definitions.

- a) "Personal Data": Any information linked or referring to a natural person, that identifies them or makes them identifiable through means that can be reasonably used.
- b) "Sensitive Personal Data": Those data that refer to the physical or moral characteristics of persons or to facts or circumstances of their private life or intimacy, such as personal habits, racial origin, ideologies, beliefs, political opinions or religious convictions, physical or mental health status, and sexual life.
- c) "Data Processing": Any operation or set of operations or technical procedures, automated or not, that allow the collection, storage, recording, organization, elaboration, selection, extraction, comparison, interconnection, dissociation, communication, assignment, transfer, transmission, or cancellation of personal data, or their use in any other form.
- d) "Data Controller": The natural or legal person, private or public, that decides on the processing of the data, i.e., who makes decisions about what to do with them from collection to deletion. For the purposes of this privacy policy, Livlife acts as the Data Controller.
- e) "Data Processor": Natural or legal person that processes personal data on behalf of the Controller, as a consequence of the existence of a legal relationship that binds them to the Controller.
- f) "User": The natural person who navigates the website and uses the Livlife App to learn about and/or benefit from its Services, and who expressly authorizes the processing of their personal data by Livlife.
- g) "Livlife Services": All those services that Livlife offers through its website and its App, including those it will offer in the future, and, without the following list being exhaustive, but merely illustrative: wellness services, such as; virtual fitness, meditation, mindfulness, among others.
- h) "Data Subject": Natural person whose personal data are processed and for which Livlife is responsible.
- i) "Data Transfer": Takes place when the controller and/or processor of personal data, located in Chile, sends the information or personal data to a recipient, who in turn is a controller and is located inside or outside the country.
- j) "Data Transmission": Processing of personal data that involves their communication inside or outside the territory of the country when it is intended for processing by the processor on behalf of the controller.
- k) "ARCO Rights": Access, Rectification, Cancellation, and Opposition rights.

- Who is the Controller of the personal data?

The controller of your personal data is the company "Flow Partners SpA.", Tax ID number 78.196.380-1 with registered office in Las Condes, Metropolitan Region of Santiago, Chile.

- What personal and/or sensitive data will we use? (Personal data subject to processing).

To fulfill the purposes indicated in this privacy policy, Livlife will process the following categories of personal data:

- User's personal identification and contact data, including first and last name, phone, email; and other data about your device, location, interaction information with the website, Livlife App and cookies.

- What is the legal basis for the use of the data?

Unless another basis is authorized by legal provision, the processing of personal data carried out by Livelife is based on the User's express, prior, unambiguous, free, and informed consent and/or on the law.

- For what purposes do we process the data?

Livelife will process the data strictly necessary to fulfill the following purposes:

1. Comply with legal obligations.
2. Carry out the necessary procedures to register, confirm, and update the User's information and to safeguard the security of their information, analyzing data from their profile and of any other nature, such as geographic locations, contact data and others permitted by current legislation.
3. Promote and offer benefits associated with loyalty programs and inform about events and raffles, discounts, promotions, satisfaction surveys and to improve the experience of Livelife Users.
4. Provide support to the User and respond to their doubts regarding the Services.
5. Send own and/or third-party advertising.
6. Perform profiling of consumption habits and those related to the User's general well-being.
7. For the purpose of maintaining the quality of products and services and verifying instructions and preventing fraud, Livelife may develop behavior and prediction models, as well as use them for statistical, historical, market research purposes, among others, in which cases your data will be used as far as possible in an anonymized form, i.e., without it being possible to identify the identity of the person to whom they belong.
8. For the purpose of maintaining the quality of services, verifying instructions and preventing fraud, Livelife may record telephone conversations, store logs and preserve such conversations and logs, which may also be used as evidence in case of judicial, administrative and arbitral processes.
9. For statistical, historical, market research purposes, among others, in which cases, as far as possible, the data will be used in an anonymized form, i.e., without it being possible to identify the identity of the person to whom they refer.

For these purposes, Livelife may collect data through different means such as the contracting and use of Livelife Services through its website, App, online forms, emails, text messages (SMS), phone calls, customer service (support) and publicly accessible databases.

- With whom do we share the data and for what purposes? (Transfers of personal data).

Livelife will not share personal data with third parties, unless permitted by law, when required to prevent, investigate and/or discover fraud; and in those cases where the User consents to it.

In this regard, by accepting this privacy policy, the User authorizes Livelife to communicate and share personal data with competent authorities, companies within the economic group of "Flow Partners SpA." and third parties such as companies, commercial partners, payment processors, customer service providers and call centers, instant messaging tools and other types of providers of services or products necessary or complementary to the provision of Livelife Services.

In the above cases, Livelife will only communicate personal data respecting the purposes described in section v above, and respecting legal standards of confidentiality, safeguarding and responsibility.

USER DISCLOSURE:

Any information or content disclosed by the User in the service will become available in the way the User's privacy preferences are configured. To modify these preferences, the User must modify them themselves, in the security preferences section created for their account. Once the content has been disclosed, it may be shared by others.

Likewise, the User consents that the data they upload to the website, or to the Livelife mobile applications through interaction with them (such as their image, habit information, etc.), may be used by Livelife and its providers for surveys, rankings and statistical purposes.

- International Transmission and Transfer.

By accepting this privacy policy, the User expressly authorizes Livelife to transfer their personal data inside and outside the country to be processed by companies within the business group of "Flow Partners SpA." or by the third parties indicated in the previous section, for the purposes described in this privacy policy, in accordance with current legal obligations.

- How long do we keep your personal data? (Validity of data processing.)

Personal data will be kept as long as you do not revoke your consent to the processing. This retention period may be extended if Livelife must retain your personal data in relation to litigation, investigations and proceedings, or if applicable law requires a longer retention period.

- How can you access, rectify, or cancel your personal data, or object to their use? (ARCO Rights).

Data protection regulations grant you a series of rights regarding your personal data that you can exercise during their processing. These rights are indicated below:

- Right of Access: The User and data subject may request Livelife to know the type of data being processed and the characteristics of the processing being carried out on them.
- Right of Rectification: The User and data subject may request Livelife to modify or amend their personal data when they are inaccurate, outdated, incomplete or misleading.
- Right of Cancellation: The User and data subject may request Livelife to delete or remove their data if their storage lacks legal basis or when they have expired.
- Right of Opposition: The User and data subject has the power to request Livelife to cease the processing of their data, only when the data is used for commercial communication purposes and the data subject does not wish to remain in the respective registry. This right is usually exercised, for example, so that Livelife stops sending commercial advertising to those who request it.

To exercise these rights, you must contact Livelife by sending an email to soporte@flowpartners.cl.

- Security.

For Livelife, the security of Users' information is fundamental in the services it provides, which is why it has appropriate policies and technical and organizational measures to adequately safeguard and protect your personal data against illegal or unauthorized access, loss, accidental destruction, damage, illegal or unauthorized use and disclosure.

We have sufficient security measures for the protection, confidentiality and security of Users' Personal Data in order to restrict access to them by unauthorized persons. Likewise, our employees, representatives, subcontractors, consultants and/or third parties involved in any phase of the processing of your Personal Data will maintain confidentiality regarding them, an obligation that will subsist during the period mentioned in the previous section, in accordance with applicable law.

- Contact.

For any questions regarding the terms of this privacy policy or the exercise of the rights granted by law to the data subject, users may write to soporte@flowpartners.cl directing their inquiry to the Privacy Department.

- Changes to this Policy.

This privacy policy may undergo modifications, changes or updates derived from new legal requirements, our own needs to make the Livelife Services available to you; our privacy practices or for other reasons.

Any change to this privacy policy or to the purposes of the processing of the data you have provided to Users will be communicated to them by publication on the websites, applications and other defined channels.

- Effective Date.

This Policy enters into effect from the date of its publication. In case of modification, you will be informed in a timely manner, requesting the respective express consent to the new conditions.
